

What Is Computer Vision Syndrome?

Computer vision syndrome (CVS) is used to describe the symptoms commonly experienced after spending 2 or more hours on digital screens.

Symptoms include:

- Tired eyes
- Eye strain
- Headaches due to long-term screen exposure
- Dry eyes that occur after looking at a digital screen
- Neck, back, and shoulder pain

Alleviating Screen Time Symptoms Through Nutrition

Few people know that there's a strong relationship between what you eat and your eye health. Aside from taking frequent breaks, nutritional intervention has been proven to help relieve the common screen-time eye symptoms. Foods and supplements that contain ingredients like zeaxanthin, lutein, Omega-3s, Vitamin D, and selenium are all great additions to the daily diet.

What Is EyePromise Screen Shield™ Pro?

A simple, nutritional supplement for your CVS problem. This vitamin includes natural, ethically sourced ingredients proven to increase your eye's natural protection against screen time and relieve tired, strained eyes.* Our high-quality, dietary zeaxanthin is sourced from US-grown paprika peppers, and our eye vitamins contain the highest amounts of this critical eye-healthy antioxidant available.

Why Screen Shield Pro?

- Each ingredient works to reduce symptoms of screen time
- Highest quality, natural ingredients
- NSF Certified for Sport
- 60-day, money-back satisfaction guarantee

Ingredients

Serving Size: 1 Softgel

All-Natural Zeaxanthin (14 mg)

A critical antioxidant necessary for protecting central vision and relieving the symptoms of screen time.

Lutein (7 mg)

An important antioxidant that protects peripheral vision and helps reduce the effects of digital screens on the eyes.

Vitamin A (750 mcg)

Essential in eye surface health and helping tear production.

Vitamin C (60 mg)

An essential vitamin in the production of the glue that holds the cells in the eyes and brain together.

Vitamin D (50 mcg)

A vitamin that promotes eye health as we age. This vitamin tends to be deficient if we spend a lot of time indoors.

Vitamin E (40 mg)

An essential vitamin that protects cells throughout the body from damage and has a positive effect on immune health.

Vitamin B6, B12, & Folic Acid (2 mg/6 mcg/400 mcg DFE)

An essential group of vitamins proven to help mitigate the effects of screen time.

Selenium, Manganese, & Zinc (70 mcg/2 mg/15 mg)

Essential minerals that bind naturally occurring antioxidant enzymes in the body.

Omega-3s (98 mg/73.5 mg - EPA/DHA)

Essential fatty acids that promote eye, heart, and skin health. Deficiency in Omega-3s can result in poor eye and brain function.

CoQ10 (15 mg)

A powerful antioxidant important for blood vessel health and the generation of energy of heart, brain, and eye cells.

Bilberry & Optiberry (15 mg/15 mg)

Natural extracts of berries with broad benefits for the body and brain as well as supporting healthy blood vessels.

Alpha Lipoic Acid (10 mg)

An antioxidant that works with Vitamins C & E to maintain eye health.

Mixed Tocopherols (6 mg)

Essential in slowing cellular aging and strengthening blood vessels.

Why EyePromise?

✓ Clinically proven products

From ingredients to product formulations, EyePromise bases all our vitamins on science, ensuring that they are safe and effective.

✓ Highest quality, natural ingredients

EyePromise Screen Shield™ Pro is formulated with the highest quality dietary zeaxanthin in the highest levels available - meaning that our zeaxanthin is natural and delivered in the amounts your eyes need to maintain healthy vision.

EyePromise products provide the highest amounts of zeaxanthin and lutein.

Other vitamins lack the amount of dietary zeaxanthin necessary to mimic the eye's natural ratio.

✓ Rigorous third-party testing

Through organizations like the FDA and NSF International, each EyePromise product is thoroughly tested for quality and purity, so you know that what you see on the label is what you get in each dose.

✓ Money-back guarantee

We stand behind our vitamins. With a 60-day, money-back satisfaction guarantee for every product, it's a risk-free investment.
